

What to know about them and how to avoid them

WHAT IS IT?

You receive a message from someone wanting to establish a relationship that may evolve into a romance.

SEE THE RED FLAG!

They ask you to send money so they can travel to see you, or they desperately need money for an emergency. They may ask you to receive money from others on their behalf, and forward it according to their instructions.

WHAT TO KNOW

- Scammers use fake dating profiles and stolen identities.
- Scammers often say they are active or retired military officials who do not have access to their accounts.

WHAT TO DO

- DO NOT send any money!
- STOP the conversation.
- DO NOT provide your personal or financial information.

WHERE TO GET HELP

- Tell a friend or family member.
- Contact your local law enforcement agency. If you have been targeted and fallen victim to a scam, take action to help yourself and safeguard others.

If you believe you've been a victim of fraud, please visit your nearest DCU branch for assistance.
